Promoting Private Sector Development

The DCED promotes economic opportunity and self-reliance through private sector development (PSD) in developing countries. It is the forum in which donor and UN agencies share their practical experience of PSD, and agree guidance on good practice. It is also the leading source of knowledge about PSD.

UPCOMING DCED EVENTS

- ▶ The DCED is organising a global Seminar on current trends and results in private sector development. About 100 participants from 32 countries, representing 54 different organisations, field programmes and governments are confirmed to be coming. Speakers will present the practical experience of major PSD programmes in Asia, Africa and Latin America – including value chain development, trade promotion, business environment reform programmes and challenge funds.

The Rationale for PSD

A central hub for the available evidence on results in PSD

- one of the most visited areas on our website
- gathers information and evidence for PSD advocacy and communication materials, supporting information for PSD proposal writing, references for research on PSD etc.

The screenshot displays the DCED (Donor Committee for Enterprise Development) website. The header includes the DCED logo and navigation links: Home, The Rationale for PSD, DCED Guidance, Knowledge Portal, News on PSD, Country Groups, and About the DCED. A search bar and language selection options are also visible. The main content area is titled 'The Rationale for Private Sector Development' and features an 'Introduction' section with a small image of people working in a field. The text explains that PSD is a core element of development strategies, aiming to help poor people earn a better living within their own economy. A sidebar on the right lists various sections related to PSD, including 'The Rationale for PSD- Overview', 'Success stories', 'Framework for Evidence', 'DCED Research and Evidence Updates', 'The Rationale for Business Environment Reform', 'The Rationale for Market Development', 'The Rationale for Public-Private Partnership', 'Quotes on PSD', 'PSD Strategies of Member Agencies', and 'Videos about PSD'.

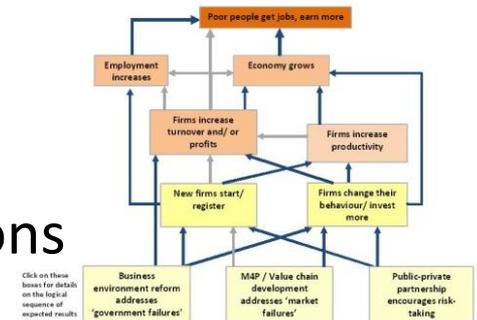

The Rationale for PSD

- About 40 Success Stories reporting success at scale (>10,000 beneficiaries) – also providing important lessons on what has worked in specific contexts

- Regular Publication on the Latest Research and Evidence on PSD

- A global results chain organising available evidence (macro and programme-level) and explanations why different PSD interventions are expected to have pro-poor impacts

- Other advocacy materials: Powerful quotes on PSD, videos etc.
- PSD strategies of (member) agency strategies

DCED Guidance

Multi-donor guidance on good practice in PSD - based on empirical experience in the field

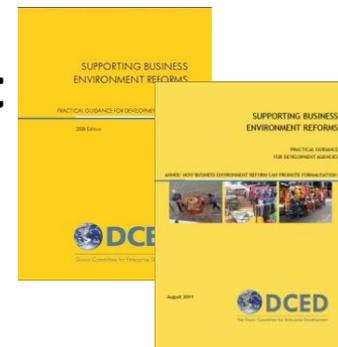

In addition to results measurement, guidance has been developed on

- Business Development Services (2001)
- and Business Environment Reform (2008/2011)

Business Environment Reform
Where entrepreneurship and markets are stifled by inappropriate regulation, excessive taxation, lack of fair competition, lack of voice or an unstable policy environment, growth and poverty reduction are likely to suffer. Typically, donors first fund business environment analyses, such as the World Bank's Doing Business Reports, identified the major constraints to business growth. They then work with
